1.0 EMPLOYMENT INSURANCE (EI)

1.1 REGULAR AND SPECIAL BENEFITS - Benefits and Costs

	Regular Benefits – 2024	Special Benefits – 2024
Description	Regular benefits are paid to those who have lost their job, are available for and able to work, but due to certain circumstances cannot find employment.*	Special benefits are paid to those who leave work due to sickness, maternity, parental leave, or compassionate care.
Maximum Insurable Earnings	Every hour worked and paid is insurable up to $63,200 annually.	Same as regular benefits.
Benefit Level and Maximum	55% of average weekly insurable earnings to a maximum of $668 per week. Benefits are taxable. Supplement available for claimants with family net income under $25,921.	Same as regular benefits.
How long do I have to work before I can collect?	(a) You must work a minimum of 420 hours to 700 hours in the last 52 weeks of insurable earnings. (b) If in workforce for first time or re-entry after 2 years absence, 910 hours are required.	You must have worked a minimum of 600 hours in the last 52 weeks.

Regular Benefits – 2024

Weeks of Benefit Entitlement	Maximum number of weeks is 45.
Employee Premium	$1.66 per $100 of Insurable earnings to a maximum annual premium $1,049.12
Quebec	$1.32 per $100 of Insurable earnings to a maximum annual premium $834.24
Employer Premium (without a Registered WI Plan)	$2.32 per $100 of Insurable earnings to a maximum annual premium $1,468.77
Quebec	$1.85 per $100 of Insurable earnings to a maximum annual premium $1,167.94
Employer Premium Multiple (with a Registered WI Plan)	For each calendar year, the rates of premium reduction are established based on 4 categories of qualifying plans; for 2024, the reduction ranges from 23¢ to 41¢ per $100 of weekly insurable earnings. See sec. 1.2 for further details on premium reduction program changes.

Special Benefits – 2024

More than one type of sickness/special benefit can be claimed within a 52 week period, to a cumulative maximum of 71 weeks.

Sickness Benefits 26 weeks maximum.

Maternity Benefits 15 weeks maximum.

You can collect maternity benefits up to 12 weeks before you are scheduled to give birth.

Parental Benefits are offered to natural and adoptive parents, either mother or father. Only one waiting period is required when sharing parental leave with your partner.

- Option I – 40 weeks at a rate of 55%;

- Option II – 69 weeks at a rate of 33%

Caregiving Benefits:

Caregiving for children – 35 weeks maximum

Caregiving for adults – 15 weeks

Compassionate Benefits 26 weeks maximum.

No additional premiums required.

No additional premiums required.

Salary continuance or insured plans can replace the EI disability benefits and result in reduced EI contributions for employers.

	Regular Benefits – 2024	Special Benefits – 2024
Minimum Insurability	A minimum of 420 to 700 hours will be required, depending on the unemployment rate in the region.	600 hours in the past 52 weeks or since the start of your last claim.
Qualifying Conditions	Entrance requirements will be based on the number of hours worked.	As above.
Benefit Payment	Based on the number of hours you have worked in the last 26 continuous weeks, plus the number of weeks you worked in that period plus the unemployment rate in your region.	Same as regular benefits.
Waiting Period	As of January 1, 2017 the waiting period is 1 week (7 days). Weekly benefits begin on Sunday and end on Saturday.	Same as regular benefits.
Repayment of Benefits at Income Tax Time	Depending on your net income you may be required to repay some of the EI income benefits back at income tax filing.	Maternity, parental, sickness, or compassionate benefit exempted from benefit repayment.

1.2 EI PREMIUM REDUCTION PROGRAM

In addition to regular EI benefits, the Government of Canada offers the EI Premium Reduction to employers and employees who offer or participate in a short term disability plan. Because such a plan can reduce the demands made on the EI system, Service Canada reduces the employer's premium rate. This reduction includes both employer and employee savings at a ratio of 7/12 for employers and 5/12 for employees (the same ratio employers and employees pay for EI premiums). It is the employer's responsibility to ensure all their employees to whom the reduction applies receive a portion of the savings.

Example: An employee whose salary is $63,200 during 2024 will pay EI premiums of $1,049.12 (calculated at 1.66%). For the purpose of this calculation, we have used a reduced employer multiplier of 1.175.

- A = Regular employer EI premium = $1,049.12 x 1.4 = $1,468.77
- B = Reduced employer EI premium = $1,049.12 x 1.175 = $1,232.72
- C = Amount of total EI premium reduction = A - B = $236.05

The portion of the savings returned to the employee in this example would be $98.35 (5/12 of $236.05). As the employer, their portion of the savings would be $137.70 (7/12 of $236.05)

1.3 SUPPLEMENTAL UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS (SUB)

Employers, either on their own initiative or through the collective bargaining process, may introduce a Supplemental Unemployment Benefit (SUB) plan for their employees. The object of a SUB plan is to top up an employee's employment insurance benefits during temporary periods of unemployment due to lack of work, training, illness or pregnancy. The SUB, combined with the weekly EI benefit rate, cannot exceed 95% of the employee's weekly earnings. A SUB plan is an employer program which is funded and administered by the employer. SUB payments are subject to income tax.

Supplements to EI, maternity, parental or compassionate benefits do not require formal submission of a plan; these amounts are exempt if, when combined with the weekly rate of employment insurance benefits, they do not exceed the employee's normal weekly earnings (100%); and do not reduce the employee's accumulated sick leave, vacation leave, severance pay or any other accumulated credits. (Separate accounting procedures must be kept by the Employer although registration is not required.)

An employer may introduce a SUB plan to offset the 1-week EI waiting period when no benefits are paid. A SUB plan must meet all of the conditions of subsection 37(2) of the EI Regulations and must be registered with the Human Resources Development Canada (HRDC), otherwise SUB payments will be considered as earnings and may be deducted from the employee's EI benefits.

The employee must apply and qualify for EI before SUB payments are payable. Separate accounting of SUB payments must be kept by the employer.

In general, a SUB plan must contain the following information:

- The number and groups of employees covered by the plan; name and local of bargaining group (unionized); wage group or type of employment (non-unionized);
- The type of work stoppage that qualifies for SUB (temporary stoppage of work, training, illness or injury, quarantine)
- Employees are receiving EI benefits;
- The amount and duration of SUB plan payments (the weekly EI benefit rate and SUB payment combined) may not exceed 95% of the employee's weekly earnings except in the case of maternity, parental leave and compassionate care (see paragraph 2 of this section).
- The SUB plan start date and end date (minimum of one year and maximum of five years, or the life of a collective agreement)
- A commitment to notify the HRDC in writing of any changes to the plan
- Confirmation that the plan is financed by the employer (either through a Trust Fund or general revenues)
- Confirmation that employees do not have a vested interest (employees do not pay their own premiums)
- Any special requirements/exclusions.

Benefit Level Calculations

If the plan provides for 95% of normal weekly salary minus the employee's EI weekly benefit rate:

Employee's normal weekly salary	$700.00
Employee's other earnings in a particular week (while in receipt of EI benefits)	NIL
EI weekly benefit rate ($700.00 x 55%)	$385.00
SUB payment calculation ($700.00 x 95%)	$665.00
SUB payment = $665.00 – $385.00	$280.00

1.4 WAGE LOSS REPLACEMENT PLAN (WLRP) REGISTRATION

A WLRP is any arrangement between an employer and employees where the employee receives wages if the employee suffers a loss of income because of sickness, pregnancy or accident.*

A. STANDARDS FOR MAXIMUM PREMIUM REDUCTION

(1) Formal Commitment

- There must be a formal commitment to employees to provide disability income benefits in the event of interruption of earnings due to non-occupational illness, injury, quarantine or pregnancy.

(2) Qualifying Period

- Employees must become eligible for disability income benefits on or before the first calendar day of the month following completion of three months continuous employment.
- Plans established on an “Hour Bank” system must provide eligibility for benefits on the first of the month following the accumulation of no more than 400 hours of employment.

(3) Benefit Waiting Period

- Must be less than 15 calendar days.

(4) Continuation of Benefits Following Layoff or Termination of Employment

- Disability income plans providing for termination of benefits on the date layoff becomes effective meet the standards if they stipulate that this restriction applies only to cases where disability commenced after notice of layoff.
- Benefits must continue for at least 15 weeks at date of layoff unless disability began after notice of layoff.

* Effective January 1, 2015 the Canada Revenue Agency requires income tax withholdings for all benefit payments paid pursuant to a Wage Loss Replacement Plan. This change means that all WLRP payments are taxable and income tax should be withheld at source.

- (5) Payment of Private Plan Benefits Regardless of any Benefits Payable by Human Resources Development Canada
- Private plan benefits must be paid in full (i.e. no reduction in benefits due to benefits payable from other sources). Plans covering occupational disabilities may carve out Workers' Compensation Benefits and still qualify for plan registration with EI.
- (6) Benefit Level
- At least 55% (or equivalent) of the employee's insurable earnings.
- (7) Benefit Duration
- Must be at least 15 weeks duration.
- (8) Reinstatement of Private Plan Benefits
- Full benefits must be reinstated within:
 - (a) one month of return to active employment in the case of a new disability; or
 - (b) three months in the case of recurrence of a previous disability.
 - In the case of "Hour Bank" plans:
 - (a) no more than 150 hours credit for new disability; or
 - (b) not more than 400 hours credit for recurrence.
- (9) Limitations in Disability Income Plans
- Many plans contain limitations under which benefits are not payable. These limitations must not reduce the availability or extent of disability benefits to insurable employees up to retirement, or to insurable employees with pre-existing medical conditions, to less than benefits provided by employment insurance legislation.
 - Disability income plans may contain the following limitations without affecting plan registration:
 - employees not under care of licensed physician;
 - occupational illness or injury covered by Workers' Compensation, Canada Pension Plan or Quebec Pension Plan;

- intentionally self-inflicted injuries or illness;
- illness during any period of maternity leave, or for which benefits are paid under sec. 30 of the Employment Insurance Act;
- cosmetic surgery;
- employer's retirement plan;
- income replacement indemnity covered by a Provincial Automobile Insurance Plan (as described in para 35 (2) (d) of the Act);
- service in any armed forces;
- riots, wars or willful participation in a disturbance of the public order;
- while on a paid vacation or during a leave of absence;
- injuries or disease sustained while committing a criminal offence;
- for any period during which an employee engages in an occupation or employment for wages or profit;
- serving a prison sentence;
- would not be entitled to benefits payable pursuant to Part II of the Act because employee is not in Canada;
- whose illness results from the use of drugs or alcohol and who is not receiving continuing treatment from a licensed physician for the use of drugs or alcohol.
- who is receiving a retirement pension from the employer.

(10) Participation Requirement

- The requirement that 95% of employees be covered under a private plan has been deleted. However, a reduction may only be allowed for employees covered under the private plan.

B. STANDARDS FOR PARTIAL PREMIUM REDUCTION

Employers who maintain disability income plans of the cumulative paid sick leave type may be eligible for a Partial Premium Reduction. All standards for Maximum Premium Reduction in section A must be met with the exception of items 4, 7 and 8. In addition, the following special qualifying conditions must be met:

- The plan must provide a minimum of one day's sick leave, with pay of at least 55% of insurable earnings, or its equivalent, for each month following the qualifying period that the employee is on the payroll.
- The minimum number of paid sick leave credits, if not used, must be at least nine days for the first year and twelve days for each subsequent year of employment with the same employer.
- The maximum accumulation of paid sick leave credits must not be less than seventy-five working days.
- Paid sick leave plans providing for termination of benefits on the date layoff becomes effective, meet the standards if they stipulate that the restriction applies only to cases where disability commences after notice of layoff. The employee must be permitted to utilize their accumulated paid sick leave until a total of at least 15 weeks has been paid or their total number of accumulated paid sick leave has been used, whichever occurs first, unless the disability began after notice of layoff.

1.5 QUEBEC PARENTAL INSURANCE PLAN

Quebec Parental Insurance Plan provides for payment of enhanced benefits to eligible workers if child is born or adopted on or after January 1, 2006. It replaces maternity, parental or adoption benefits available to Quebec parents under the Employment Insurance.

1) Eligibility

Parent of a child born or adopted on or after January 1, 2006, residing in Quebec at the beginning of the benefit period, earning at least $2,000 of insurable income in the last 52 weeks preceding commencement of benefit payments regardless of the number of hours worked and whose regular weekly income is reduced by at least 40%.

2) Maximum Annual $94,000

3) Insurable Earnings Waiting Period None

4) Benefits

- Maternity Offered to birth mothers only
- Paternity Offered to fathers only
- Parental Full number of weeks may be taken by either parent or shared between them
- Adoption Full number of weeks may be taken by either parent or shared between them
- Benefit Duration Parents have a choice between two benefit payment periods equal to the percentage of the average weekly earnings (average earnings from last 26 weeks) as follows:

Type of Benefit	Basic Plan ⁽ⁱ⁾	Special Plan ⁽ⁱ⁾
Maternity Benefits	18 weeks at 70%	15 weeks at 75%
Paternity Benefits	5 weeks at 70%	3 weeks at 75%
Parental Benefits	7 weeks at 70% and 25 weeks at 55%	25 weeks at 75%
Adoption Benefits	32 weeks at 70% for first 7 weeks; and next 25 weeks at 55%	25 weeks at 75%

⁽ⁱ⁾ Option selected by the first parent filing a claim applies to the other parent

Employee Premium: 0.494% of Insurable earnings to a maximum annual premium of $464.36

Employer Premium: 0.692% of Insurable earnings to a maximum annual premium of $650.48

Self-Employed

Worker Premium: 0.878% of Insurable earnings to a maximum annual premium of $825.32

2.0 WORKERS' COMPENSATION (WC) BENEFITS

2.1 INTRODUCTION

Each of the 10 provinces and 3 territories has enacted Workers' Compensation legislation. Provisions and the level of insurable earnings vary from province to province. Workers' Compensation is financed exclusively by employers. An employer's contribution is calculated as a percentage of the insurable earnings, which varies by industry and by province. Benefits are not taxable.

In British Columbia, Manitoba, Ontario, Quebec, Saskatchewan, the Yukon and Nunavut, benefits are adjusted in accordance with increases in the Consumer Price Index; in the Northwest Territories this applies to permanent pensions only. In other provinces, periodic changes are legislated.

Benefits for injuries resulting from occupational accidents or industrial diseases are payable, in the event of:

(1) Death

Benefits are payable as a lump sum plus monthly payments which reflect insured earnings and number of eligible dependents.

(2) Disability

Benefits are payable as a percentage of insured salary based on the nature and expected duration of disability.

For further information contact the Workers' Compensation Board in your province (see sec. 9.0).

3.0 RETIREMENT INCOME

3.1 INTRODUCTION

Old Age Security (OAS) is the first tier of Canada's three-tiered retirement income system. The Canada Pension Plan (CPP) and the Quebec Pension Plan (QPP) make up the second tier. Private pensions, investments and savings make up the third tier.

- (1) Pensioners with an individual net income above $90,997 must repay part or all of the maximum OAS pension amount. The repayment amounts are normally deducted from monthly payments before they are issued. The full OAS pension is eliminated when a pensioner's net income is $142,609 (age 65 to 74); $148,179 (age 75 and over) or above.
- (2) Effective July, 1996, OAS recipients are required to file a statement of their world-wide income.
- (3) Effective in 2000 annual applications for OAS supplement benefit are not necessary if you file a tax return by April 30th. The Canada Revenue Agency will automatically furnish the information directly to the OAS office. If you do not file a tax return you must re-apply for OAS each April.

3.2 FEDERAL OLD AGE SECURITY

Benefits under Old Age Security include: the basic Old Age Security pension; the Guaranteed Income Supplement (GIS); the Allowance; and the Allowance for Survivor. Pension payments, allowances and supplements are adjusted quarterly of each year to reflect increases in the cost of living. Applications for pension benefits are available from Health & Welfare Canada Income Security Programs (ISP), Human Resources Development Canada (HRDC).

Benefit	Taxable	Age	Residency Requirements	Other
Old Age Security (OAS) Basic Monthly Pension	Yes	65 +	Minimum of 10 years of residence in Canada after reaching age 18. Must meet citizenship requirements.	Payment is not automatic, you must apply for the benefit, and provide proof of age.
Allowance	No	60 - 64	Minimum of 10 years of residence in Canada after reaching age 18. Must meet citizenship requirements.	Must be Spouse/Common Law Partner of GIS recipient. Benefits continue to age 65 or change in partnership.
Allowance for Survivor	No	60 - 64	Minimum of 10 years of residence in Canada after reaching age 18. Must meet citizenship requirements.	Subject to income test and residence requirements. Benefits continue to age 65 or remarriage.
Guaranteed Income Supplement (GIS)	No	65 +	Minimum of 10 years of residence in Canada after reaching age 18. Must meet citizenship requirements.	Must be in receipt of OAS. Subject to income test and residence requirements.

3.3 OLD AGE SECURITY BENEFITS PAYMENT RATES – JANUARY - MARCH 2024

Type Benefit	Recipient	Maximum Monthly Benefit	Maximum Annual Income
Old Age Security Pension	All recipients	$ 713.34	$142,609
		$ 784.67*	$148,179
Guaranteed Income Supplement	Single person	$1,065.47	$21,624 (individual income)

Allowance for the survivor	All recipients	$1,614.89	$29,112 (individual income)

* Age 75 and over

Based on annual net world income in 2022

3.4 PROVINCIAL RETIREMENT SUPPLEMENT

In some provinces, monthly retirement pension supplements are available to low income seniors. These plans supplement OAS and GIS benefits received by seniors. Provincial benefits are subject to an income and/or needs test.

To qualify for a provincial supplement, a recipient must meet the following requirements:

- must be in receipt of the federal Old Age Security and Guaranteed Income Supplement;
- must be age 65 or older;
- must be a permanent resident of the province.

For more information on eligibility, please contact the social services department in your province (see sec. 9.0)

Province	Program	Maximum Monthly Supplement
Alberta (AB)	Alberta Seniors Benefit Program	*$12,312 Annually $16,104 Annually
British Columbia	Senior's Supplement Program	*$99.30 $220.50

Nova Scotia	Special Social Assistance (SSA)	No ceiling
Ontario	Guaranteed Annual Income System (GAINS)	*$83.00 $166.00
Saskatchewan	Seniors Income Plan (SIP)	$360.00
Yukon	Yukon Seniors Income Supplement	$288.61

AB – based on residence and income (homeowner/renter/subsidized). Paid as annual cash payment.

* Single

 Couple

Some provinces offer a widow's pension and/or a healthcare premium subsidy as part of the program.

3.5 CANADA PENSION PLAN & QUEBEC PENSION PLAN

A. INTRODUCTION

The Canada Pension Plan (CPP) is a contributory Plan funded entirely by the contributions of employees, employers and the self-employed, as well as the earnings on the investments of the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund. The Plan operates in all parts of Canada except in Quebec which has its own similar pension program, the Quebec Pension Plan (QPP). CPP/QPP Pension benefits are taxable income.

A CPP/QPP retirement pension is an earnings-related benefit, payable monthly upon application to people who have been credited with contributions and who are at least age 60. The pension amount depends on the level of earnings during a person's contributory period, and the age at which a person chooses to begin receiving a pension.

All CPP/QPP benefits include a yearly Cost of Living Adjustment (COLA). In order to become eligible for a CPP retirement pension, a claimant must:

- (1) apply for the pension, it is not automatic (applications for CPP are available from Income Security Programs (ISP), Human Resources Development Canada (HRDC));
- (2) have made contributions to the plan in at least one year;
- (3) be either at least 65 years of age, or 60 to 64 years of age.

As of 2019 the Canada Pension Plan (CPP) gradually began enhancements. CPP now consists of:

- (a) the base (or original CPP)
- (b) the first additional component, which was phased in between 2019 and 2023, and
- (c) the second additional component, which will be phased in between 2024 and 2025.

Up until 2019, the CPP retirement pension replaced one quarter (25%) of the average worked earnings. The enhancement means that the CPP will begin to grow to replace one third (33.33%) of the average work earnings you receive after 2019. The maximum limit of earnings protected by the CPP will also increase by 14% between 2024 and 2025.

As of January 1, 2024, the second additional CPP contribution comes into effect. This additional is referred to as CPP2. Those who meet the financial threshold criteria for CPP2 will make this contribution in addition to the base CPP and the first additional CPP contribution.

In 2024, if you earn less than $68,500, you don't have to pay the second additional CPP contribution.

A claimant in receipt of CPP disability benefits does not have to apply for a CPP retirement pension. The disability pension will automatically be converted to a retirement benefit the month after the claimant's 65th birthday.

Under 65: a flat rate plus 37.5% of deceased's retirement pension to the maximum amount. No benefit if under age 35.
- (3) QPP Survivor's Pension
Under 65: benefit is made up of a Flat rate based on age band and an earnings-related portion.
- (4) Dependent Child is defined as up to age 18 (25 if in full time attendance at school).
- (5) Disability Pension-CPP/QPP
- (a) Recipient must have made sufficient contribution to the Plan, be under age 65, and unable to pursue any substantially gainful occupation for a long, indefinite period. A Disability pension begins in the fourth month after the month a person is considered disabled.
- (b) Rehabilitation: Effective in 1995 CPP Disability benefit recipients are no longer automatically reviewed if they do voluntary work. CPP may also provide benefits for an interim (transitional) period if a recipient is able to return to work or is upgrading skills toward that end (must be approved by CPP); and recipients with recurrent or degenerative conditions who try to work will have their benefits reinstated on a 'fast track' basis if the disability recurs and becomes totally disabling again.

(i) Since January 2019, the Quebec Pension Plan comprises 2 plans:

- Base Plan, that is, the plan that was in place before the enhancement of the Quebec Pension Plan and to which employees and employers each contribute 5.4% for the portion of earnings between $3500 (the basic exemption) and the maximum pensionable earnings (MPE)
- Additional Plan, that is, the plan to which additional contributions are paid by the employees and employers according to a rate that will gradually increase from 2019 to 2023. In addition, as of 2024, new contributions will be added to the portion of earnings, which will be 107% of MPE as of 2024 and 114% of the MPE as of 2025

The registered pension plan (RPP) contribution limit for the plan year is based on the lesser of the current-year RPP dollar limit above and 18 percent of earnings in that year.

The deferred profit sharing plan (DPSP) contribution limit for the plan year is based on the lesser of one half of the current-year RPP dollar limit above and 18 percent of earnings in that year. The registered retirement savings plan (RRSP) contribution limit is based on the lesser of the current-year RRSP dollar limit above and 18 percent of earnings in the previous year.

An individual's available RRSP contribution room for the year equals, in general, the individual's RRSP contribution limit, reduced by the previous year's pension adjustment (PA) and any past service pension adjustments (PSPAs), increased by any newly-reported pension adjustment reversals (PARs) and increased by the carry-forward, where they had not made full RRSP contributions in prior years.

The PA for defined contribution plans including a DPSP is equal to the contributions made to the plan for each member.

- Notes
- The personal RRSP maximum contribution limit for a member of an RPP or a DPSP plan must be reduced by the Pension Adjustment reported on his prior year's T4 slip and employee additional voluntary contributions (if applicable).
 - Earned income includes salary or wages, research grants, alimony, maintenance and support payments, receipts under a SUB plan, business and rental income from real estate.
 - Earned income is reduced by union dues, business and rental losses, and deductible alimony, maintenance and support payments.
 - A lifetime maximum of $2,000 may be contributed to an RRSP in excess of the contribution limits, without penalty. Prior to 1996, the excess contribution limit was $8,000 and transition rules apply.

4.2 WITHHOLDING TAX

Withholding tax on lump sum pension and RRSP payments:

$5,001 to $15,000	20%	10%
$15,000 +	30%	15%

5.0 DISABILITY BENEFITS

The Canada/Quebec Pension Plan provides for the payment of disability pensions to eligible contributors and for the payment of benefits to their dependent children. Disability under these Plans means a physical or mental impairment that is severe and prolonged. Severe means unable to regularly carry out any gainful employment. Prolonged means that the disability is likely to be ‘indefinite’ or may result in death.

Maximum monthly benefit of $93.39.

- Notes
- A contributor cannot receive a disability pension and a retirement pension at the same time.
 - The disability pension will be offset by the amount of retirement pension already received.
 - If at age 65 the contributor is in receipt of a disability pension, the pension will automatically be converted to a retirement pension without application.

6.0 MEDICARE

6.1 PROVINCIAL HEALTH PROGRAMS IN CANADA

Provincial hospital and medical programs (“Medicare”) are supported from general revenues, both provincial and federal. Five provinces require additional support in the form of monthly premiums: employer contributions are mandatory in Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec; individual monthly premiums are required in British Columbia and Alberta (employers may share the employee cost if they so elect).

Province	Title	Coverage	Effective	Monthly Premium Rates
Alberta	Alberta Health Care Insurance Plan	All residents and their dependents must register with AHCIP. Registration is required by law.	Sept. 9, 2002*	Annual premiums based on earnings more than $50,000. $200 to $1,000 per person

6.2 PUBLIC HOSPITAL AND MEDICAL CARE

1. Hospital Benefits

Hospital plans vary by jurisdiction, but they all cover, during the active treatment period, room and board to ward level, operating room and anesthetic facilities, medically necessary in-patient nursing care, drugs (subject to certain exceptions), laboratory and diagnostic services, and certain out-patient services.

Entry fees and/or daily ward charges for chronic-care and nursing homes exist in most jurisdictions. All jurisdictions cover expenses incurred out of the province or territory to varying degrees.

2. Medical Care, Drugs, Dental Care and Eye Examinations

Medical Care

Medicare plans essentially cover all medically required services per Canada Health Act rendered by medical practitioners at home, office or hospital; depending on the jurisdiction, limited coverage available for paramedical services and prosthetic or durable equipment.

Charges incurred by a person temporarily outside province or territory of residence reimbursed to varying degrees.

Drug Expenses (out of hospital, excluding special programs for low-income persons)

All jurisdictions have a drug formulary

Note In lieu of paying the employer's share directly from employer funds an employer may, at their option, add the equivalent cost to each employee's regular weekly or monthly gross income and subsequently deduct the full monthly disability plan premium for remittance to insurer. Under the above arrangement, benefits would not be taxable to employees. However, the employer's share of the cost which has been added to gross income is now subject to all other normal payroll deductions.

7.4 SALES TAX

In Quebec, there is a 9% sales tax on premiums paid under group contracts, including both insured and uninsured plans.

The Ontario Government imposes an 8% sales tax on premiums paid under group contracts, including both insured and uninsured plans.

In Manitoba, 7% Retail Sales Tax (RST) applies to insurance premiums with respect to group life insurance, disability, critical illness and accidental death and dismemberment. The Manitoba RST does not apply with respect to self-insured plans or premiums for health or dental premiums.

8.0 BENEFICIARY LEGAL REQUIREMENTS

The law which governs the designation and revocation of beneficiaries is the law of the province where the employee was residing at the time he became insured.

8.1 PROVINCES OTHER THAN QUEBEC

Designation of Beneficiary

- A person 16 years of age or older may designate a beneficiary.
- Generally, any person may be named as beneficiary including minors, the state, the executors or administrators and an institution having the right to receive funds.
- An employee may not designate a beneficiary as “guardian for a minor”, or an individual administrator for their estate.
- A trustee may be appointed for a beneficiary.
- A contingent beneficiary may be designated.
- Refer to sec. 8.3 “Naming Employer as Beneficiary”.
- Special rules apply in event of a recognized divorce.

Revocation

- If an employee was insured prior to July 1, 1962 and prior to that date had designated as beneficiary one of the following persons (known as preferred beneficiaries): spouse; children; grandchildren; adopted children; children of adopted children; parents and adopting parents, the employee may revoke the so named beneficiary but only in favour of one of these persons. However, if this beneficiary is not a minor, the beneficiary may release their interest in the insurance in favour of the insured employee who then regains control of the insurance.
- If an employee became insured on or after July 1, 1962, the insured employee may revoke the beneficiary at any time, without any consent, in favour of any person, provided the original designation did not specify that it was irrevocable.

8.2 QUEBEC

Designation of Beneficiary

- A person 18 years of age or older may designate a beneficiary.
- Generally, any person may be named as beneficiary including minors, legal representatives or executors, and any institution having the right to receive funds.
- The designation of the employee's spouse as beneficiary is irrevocable unless otherwise stipulated.
- An employee may not designate a beneficiary as "guardian for a minor", or an individual administrator for their estate.
- A contingent beneficiary may be designated.
- Refer to sec. 8.3 "Naming the Employer as Beneficiary".
- Special rules apply in event of a recognized divorce.

Revocation

- If an employee was insured prior to October 20, 1976 and prior to that date had designated as beneficiary their children or spouse, then the employee cannot revoke the designation without the prior consent of that beneficiary.
- An irrevocable beneficiary, except a minor child, may release their interest in the insurance in favour of the insured employee who then gains control of the insurance.
- If an employee became insured on or after October 20, 1976 and a designation of the beneficiary was not made irrevocable, the employee may change the beneficiary at any time without consent.

8.3 NAMING EMPLOYER AS BENEFICIARY

There are no known laws in Canada which would prevent an employee from designating their employer as the beneficiary of the employee's group life insurance.

Tax Implications

(1) Employer's Cost Tax Deductible

An employer who is a beneficiary cannot take deductions from income for Life or AD&D premiums paid on behalf of the employee as these premiums are considered under The Income Tax Act as an outlay to earn exempt income.

(2) Benefit Taxable Income to Recipient

The insurance proceeds received by the employer would not be taxable income.

8.4 NAMING ESTATE AS BENEFICIARY

- An employee designating their estate as beneficiary should be made aware that Life Insurance monies paid into, and becoming part of an estate can be used to pay last debts, including medical and legal fees, etc.
- The Administrator of an estate most often applies to a surrogate court for letters of probate, particularly if a Will exists. Such application must be accompanied by a bond in an amount that is usually some percentage of the entire estate. When the estate has been properly and completely administered, the bond is returned.
- In some instances, the bond is purchased from a casualty company with premiums coming out of the estate. This premium is not refundable when the bond is returned.
